

John Wright is the Vice President of Sales at Scorpion, specifically heading up the family law division of the company. He is responsible for over $100m in revenue generated for his clients during his tenure at the company. He provides businesses and brands with strategic digital marketing plans that help them grow their revenue and maximize their ROI while positioning them for long-term success. John is Google Ads Certified and is always on top of the latest developments within the Internet marketing industry, which allows him to better serve his clients.